Fire claims airport building

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus firefighters banded together with firemen from the Airport Fire Department Friday night to battle a blaze that completely destroyed a three-story wooden storage building, located on airport property along Goddard Road just west of Midlebelt.

The fire of unknown origin started between 10 and 10:30 p.m., and firefighters were on the scene until it was determined the flames were extinguished at approximately 2:30 a.m. Many stayed longer to insure everything was under control. God-

"It was a spectacular blaze ... there are even burns on the grass across Goddard where sparks blew over."

dard Road near I-94 was closed for approximately 5½ hours as a result of the blaze.

According to an airport spokesperson, the fire "was a spectacular blaze, with flames and sparks shooting up extremely high. There are even burns on the grass across Goddard where sparks blew over."

The representative said that the building was used to store gravel, salt, sand and a few vehicles, both by the airport and the Wayne County Road Commission. The dollar loss is unknown at this time, and it is believed that at least two tractors and two mowers were inside the structure at the time of the fire, but there may have been more.

ANP photos by Steve O'Leary

"The building was scheduled to be demolished anyways; so it's no big loss," the spokesman related, "as a matter of fact, the contract already had gone out to get it demolished. But I don't think this is what they had in mind!"

As of Monday, Romulus detectives had not received a report on the fire, but it was determined that the airport had investigators coming in to try and determine the cause of the blaze. When asked if arson was suspected, an airport source said "arson is always a possibility, so it's always one of the things we look at."

Airport acting-manager Tim Ward reported that air traffic was unaffected, noting that "the Romulus Fire Department did an excellent job. They responded and acted in an outstanding manner." Metropolitan Airport has its own fire department, but often is assisted by local departments when needed.

If arson is shown to be the cause of the fire, it would be at least the 21st confirmed instance of it in the city in 1984, making Romulus a literal hotbed of arson.

School board reviews election 'win'

At a recent meeting, the Romulus Community Schools' Board of Education reviewed the action being taken by the School District's staff to implement the programs being developed as a result of the successful June 11th millage campaign.

The board employed 26 new teachers, 17 of whom are being recalled to positions created by program restoration. The action restores elementary art, music and physical education, expands academic offerings at the high school and creates computer and foreign language opportunities at the junior high school.

The Board also heard that more than 1,200 students have enrolled for a sixth hour at the senior high school. For the first time in three years, the entire School District will be on a full six hours and intramural and sports programs will be reintroduced.

In other action, the board heard a report from an employee of a consulting firm calling for immediate work on repair and/or replacement of four roofs in the school district.

The staff and consultants have developed a complex plan involving energy audits, special state-sponsored loans, and other procedures designed to provide action on all the roofs before winter.

In his comments to the board,

Superintendent Dr. William Bedell indicated: "It's an entirely different feeling to be working with a board when they are doing positive things. All of this was made possible because the parents of Romulus were willing to support their children and their schools."

"No other School District in recent history has been the recipient of this kind of massive effort by parents and taxpayers to protect their children and their property values."

Bedell went on to laud the group of workers who made the millage passage possible.

"We must be thankful to the hard core group of people that spent endless hours distributing information, making phone calls and generally working to get parents to the polls. Our campaign coordinator, Jerry DesHarnais, was the driving force behind that effort and the children and employees of this school district will be grateful to Jerry and the teachers, principals, bus drivers, custodians, PTA's, parents and other who worked so hard in this effort."

The board also heard a report that indicated the programs will be in place by September.

"It appears it will be a busy summer for the Board as they prepare to rebuild their school district", Bedell commented.

State to reimburse special election costs

By EVE SILBERMAN
ANP Staff Writer

In an action that eased the wrath of Sumpter and Huron Township officials, the state Legislature last week approved a bill that provided $50,000 to local communities for the costs incurred in the invalidated June 6 21st district state representative primary.

"We've already sent out a bill," said Sumpter Township supervisor, noting that Sumpter's election costs totalled $1,700. Huron Township spent between $3500 and $4000 on the primary that was to have determined Republican and Democratic candidates for the seat vacated by the death of State Rep. Richard Sullivan, D-New Boston.

The June 6 primary was invalidated shortly afterwards when the Michigan Supreme Court ruled that a state apportionment plan approved by the Legislature last winter was unconstitutional. The state returns to its 1982 legislative boundaries, under the ruling.

A new special election for the 21st seat will be held on August 7.

While expressing relief at the action, Reeves and Huron Township Clerk Mary Lou Carey — both of whom were candidates in the ill-fated June 5 primary — reiterated their anger over the confusion.

"Mr. Sullivan died in February. The Legislature and the Attorney General just sat on this thing for months," Reeves said.

The Sumpter Supervisor will be a candidate in the Aug. 7 primary.

Carey — who was not allowed to be a candidate for the 21st race because the deadline had passed for her to withdraw from the Township Clerk's race — remains bitter. "I just wish they would reimburse me for my expenses (as state representative candidate)," she said.

"I'm out in the cold."

The State Senate approved the allocations July 11 as part of Senate Bill 184. A spokesman for Senator William Faust, D-

Westland, and a supporter of the bill, said remaining monies would return to the general fund.

Lost a friend City, police mourn Sullivan's death

The City of Romulus lost a very good friend last Wednesday when Police Inspector Robert M. Sullivan passed away at his Inkster home following a brief illness. He was 61.

Sullivan held the title of inspector with the Romulus Police Department, but his position was that of deputy chief. It was Sullivan who, along with Chief Donald Flood, put together the department in April of 1981, following word that the Wayne County Sheriff would no longer be servicing Romulus due to cut-backs.

A former inspector with the Sheriff's Department, who at one time oversaw the Romulus area, Sullivan was hired along with Flood and, according to Flood, "had only about one month to set up the department. That was the first time I met him, and we've worked together and been good friends since."

"Robert Sullivan was a great benefit to this department," said Flood, "and he's going to be very hard to replace. In the short three years he was with us here, he certainly had the respect and friendship of everyone."

According to Flood, Sullivan's illness was quick and unsuspected.

"He only missed the last five weeks of work. Prior to that time, he — nor anyone — had any idea of what was to come."

Reportedly, it was five weeks ago that Sullivan was diagnosed as having a blood clot, which proceeded to move to his lung the following week. He was then diagnosed as having terminal cancer. The next week, Inspector Sullivan suffered a stroke.

According to a friend, Sullivan "realized there was no hope, and asked to leave Oakwood Hospital to go home, where he wanted to spend his last days."

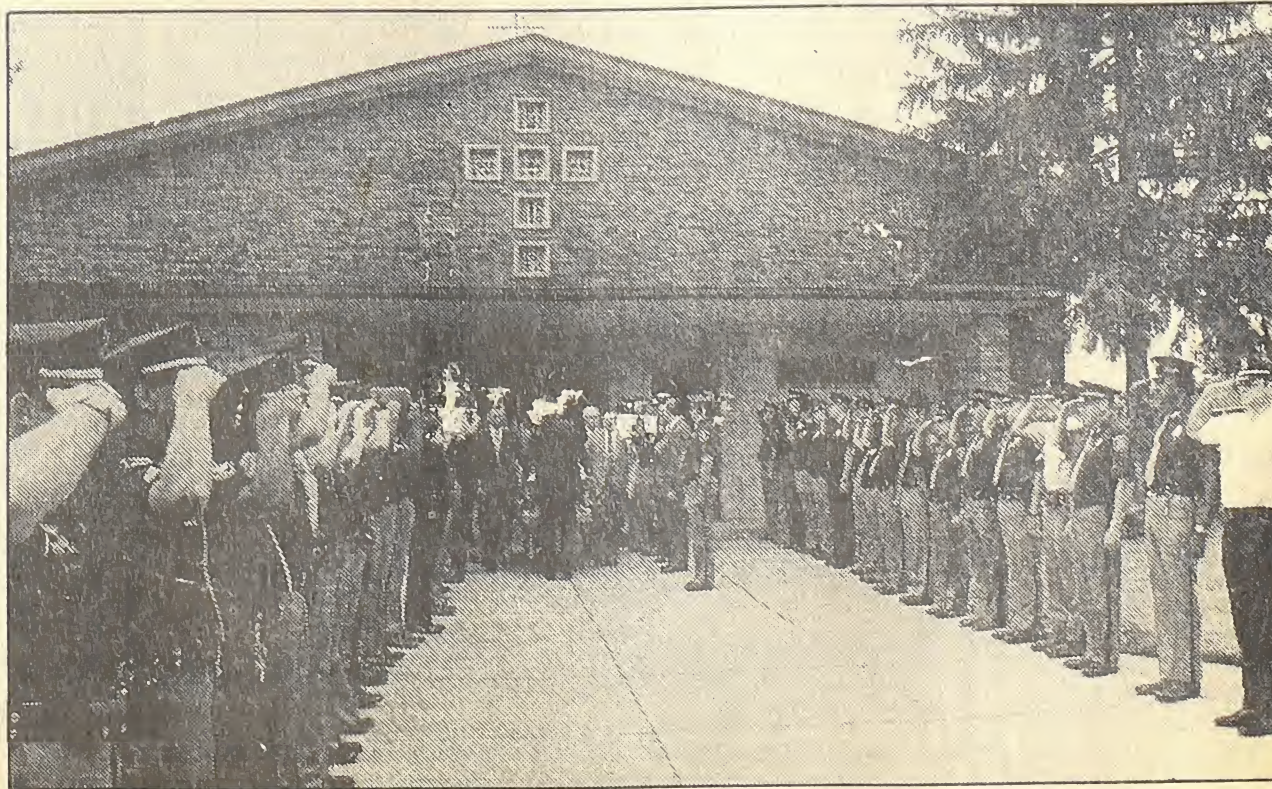

On Saturday, Sullivan was given a police funeral at St. Norbert's Church. Officers from many departments were on hand to pay their last respects to a fellow officer and a friend.

Sullivan is survived by his wife Marion; two sons, William and Thomas; a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Brühnsan, two grandchildren, a brother and a sister.

Police officers came from surrounding communities to join in the grief shared by the Romulus Police Department and the Wayne County Sheriff's office, as Inspector Robert M. Sullivan was buried Saturday following a funeral mass at St. Norbert's in Inkster. Sullivan was 61.

Detour

A stretch of Goddard Road, from Hunt Street to Shooke, will be closed to through traffic from Monday, July 30, until Aug. 10. The reason for the shutdown is the addition of a rubberized crossing, which will reduce the wear and tear on automobiles which go over the now-bumpy tracks.

Safety Board probes June 13 Metro crash

"Smell the rain? Got lightning in it too. It's going to get choppy than --- here in a minute."

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

In an effort to determine why a US Air DC9 crash-landed at Detroit Metropolitan Airport June 13, a two-day hearing was held last week involving inspectors from the National Transportation Safety Board, the pilot and first officer of the downed plane, air traffic controllers, representatives from the National Weather Service and other groups.

The hearing took place Tuesday and Wednesday in the Romulus Room at Ramada Inn near the airport.

Questions that seemed to relate to competency were aimed at the 57-year-old pilot, Capt. Arthur L. Sanderhoff. Dr. Barry Strauch, who sat on the board as "human performance specialist," read from an April report regarding Sanderhoff's efficiency training and refresher course that he (Sanderhoff) was "poorly prepared."

The pilot countered by stating he had been "intimidated" by the instructor and asked to be taken out of the class, something which Captain James Fogarty, the Director of Flight Training for USAir, said was "not common, but did happen from time to time. There are occasional personality clashes," he said.

Testimony Wednesday centered on the air traffic controller that was on duty that night, Amanda Wilcox, as well as an expert in the field, Walter Wasielewski, Supervisory Air Traffic Control Specialist at Metro Airport.

According to testimony, a thunderstorm had quickly moved onto the airport grounds, causing Wilcox to send out an on-air broadcast of vision being good for two miles, but changing that to one mile less than a minute later and quickly to one-quarter mile. Only the two-mile was broadcast, the others were announced "in-house," in the control tower.

A representative from USAir questioned Wilcox after the board did, asking her if she had been advised of the heavy rain outside.

"I knew it was raining. No one advised me," she said. When asked if she knew it was raining extremely heavy, she replied "no."

USAir then asked her "why didn't you announce the one mile and the quarter mile on the air?" to which Wilcox responded "I don't know." Other questions centered on the non-issuance of a "wind shear alert."

"Down the gear, down the gear! Down."

A wind shear occurs when the plane enters the storm center, with winds pushing the plane forward and up one second and then down with tremendous force.

A wind shear alert, said Wilcox, is sounded when "several" of the ground alarms go off. It was determined that there was not sufficient reason to have sounded the alert, and the representative from USAir told Wilcox that she "acted correctly and quickly, doing a very fine job."

Sanderhoff had also stated that had he been aware that large hail was pelting the runway in high winds, he would not have attempted to land at that time. He had no such warning, he stated, and officials from the National Weather Service testified that the storm that night intensified very quickly, and that there had not been time to call extra personnel as was procedure during storms.

When he hit the wind shear, said Sanderhoff, "it was as if something was pushing down on the plane ... I knew contact with the ground was imminent."

Results of the hearing will be studied by the board to see if any and what actions will be taken. But it was Fogarty's testimony that had many of those in attendance nodding their heads in agreement.

"As a result of this mishap, no,

"(Sound similar to crash) Oh ----. Let's get out-ta here."

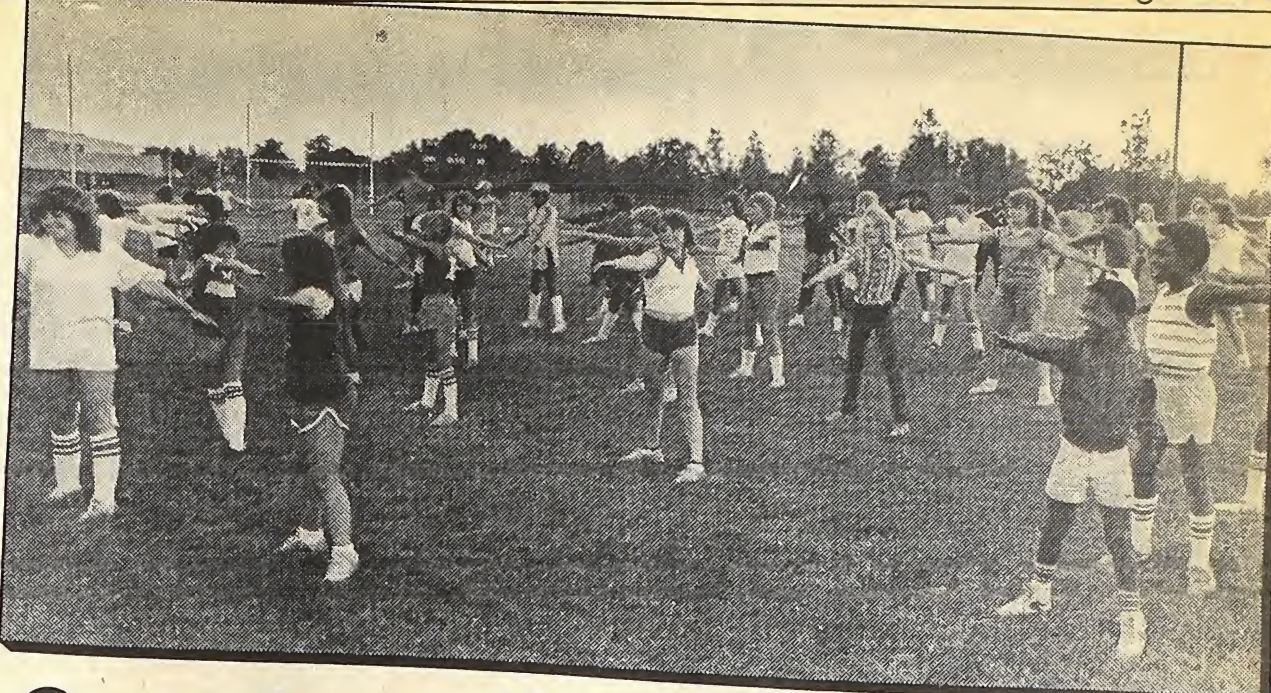

I would not make any changes in my training methods," he said. "However, I feel very strongly that there must be industry changes.

"We should not be training pilots how to fly through wind shears," said Fogarty, "instead we should be using and developing technology to let us find wind shears, to let us know where they are so they can be avoided."

Fogarty added that this accident occurred despite everyone apparently acting correctly, because a wind shear developed where it shouldn't have.

"If we can put a man on the moon," added Fogarty, "I'm sure we ought to be able to do that."

‘Charles’

He is one of a kind.
At first, everyone called him “Mr.” or “Reverend”, but that soon changed. Charles Jacobs is a man of change. Years ago he and his wife came to this town with their youngest child in tow. With them, with him, particularly, came change. Charles is a man who is singularly unafraid of change.
In the span of years of his ministry at First United Methodist Church of Wayne, the most significant change he has influenced may be the change in some of the attitudes of his congregation. Of course, as in any group, there are still some who would reject this minister or God himself, and even Charles couldn’t change them.
Some of his alterations have been more tangible, a new parsonage, the addition of the “previously owned” Wayne Bank property giving the church land control and therefore, control of its own destiny, for example.
His impact on the individual lives he has touched will live as long as those of us he has affected have memory. His caring hand was there for so many in times of depression, illness or trouble. His empathy, understanding and friendship have been irreplaceable.
He has, on occasion, ruffled a few feathers. His taking a firm stand, as he has done many times, has prompted some to murmur — but some would murmur about Christ himself. Charles Jacobs’ service has been an exemplary performance and a template for his sons to trace out as they continue their ministries.
While Charles and Dorothy Jacobs had only their young daughter, Beth, with them when they arrived in Wayne years ago, they were also the parents of an already married daughter, Kay, and two sons, Chuck and

Jim. Both sons are now ministers in the Michigan conference.
The Jacobs came by their religious calling naturally. Charles’ father and uncles were Methodist ministers. They all succumbed at an early age to heart problems. Now Charles, after two heart attacks, quadruple bypass surgery and severely blocked arteries, no doubt wonders and waits. His physical condition is precarious, at best.
He wonders, perhaps, if he “did it all right,” played out the hand the Lord dealt him in the best way he could. He officially retired a week ago Sunday at a church party attended by his family and friends.
None of us know what tomorrow will bring for any of us. Charles has come through numerous tests of his courage and stamina as a result of his medical condition. I trust and pray he will go on to see the fruits of his labors blossom through his family and his church flock.
Charles “did good”, and his guiding hand molded and shaped more than one generation in his incredible ministry here. His 14-year tenure, unprecedented in this church, stands as the greatest testament to the love and admiration felt toward him and his family.
Reverend Jacobs, my friend, my neighbor, my counselor and my minister, live in the knowledge that you have touched the hearts and minds of those you were sent to shepherd.
“May the Lord bless and keep you always and hold you up in the palm of his hand.”
God bless you, Charles. Live long and be at peace. It was a job well done.

A debt still unpaid

“Ever since the Revolutionary War, America’s men and women have heroically served their country in times of conflict. In each of America’s wars, our prisoners of war have been required to make special sacrifices, serving their country under conditions of hardship. Their burden greatly increased when they were treated in violation of the Fundamental Standards of Morality and International Code of Conduct for the treatment of prisoners of war.
“Our POWs and MIAs have earned a very special place in the hearts of all Americans because of their selfless devotion to duty and unflinching courage. We must not forget or fail to honor those who have served country so faithfully.”
With those words President Ronald Reagan declared July 20 as National POW/MIA Recognition Day in the United States.
Not many flags flew last Friday in a show of national support for the families of servicemen still missing in action, or for those who luckily returned from their country’s wars. No wreaths were laid at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier; there were no parades.
It has been 10 years since the United States ended its involvement in the Vietnam War, and still more than 2,000 servicemen remain unaccounted for. Those who have been taken off the list of MIAs are few, much the result of a doling out of the remains by the Vietnamese government.
Last week eight more boxes, containing the remains of U.S. servicemen were turned over to our representatives in Hanoi. For the families of MIAs the long wait has become even longer, wondering if one of those eight coffins contain their loved one.
The wounds of the Vietnam War have just begun to heal, but one wound that should never heal until all the questions are answered is the plight of the MIAs and their families. Pressure from the United States and the international community must be brought on the Vietnamese government to give a fair and just accounting of those who have not come home.
Seventy-seven families in the state of Michigan still must wonder where their loved ones are. If they are alive, they should be repatriated with their families and their country. If they are dead, their remains should be returned to this country for proper burial and an end of the grief and worry their families have had to endure.
Americans for the most part have left the issue of the MIAs on the closet shelf to gather dust. It’s time to take it down, blow off the dust and deal with it. Only then will we as a country be able to deal with the wounds of the Vietnam War. Monuments and parades are not the solution, rather a concerted nationwide effort to demand an accounting.

Too many years have been allowed to elapse for this issue. While the President proclaimed July 20 as National POW/MIA Recognition Day to recognize “the special debt that all Americans owe to their fellow citizens who gave up their freedom in the service of our country and to the families who have undergone a great travail,” a far greater tribute can be paid these servicemen by a unified and nationwide demand for answers.
We as Americans owe it to our missing in action. We owe it to the 77 Michiganders who have yet to return. We owe it to ...

Charges were fair

To the editor:
I would like to set the record straight relative to Mr. Schannault’s charges in his letter of 7/11/84, “Unfair Towing Charges.”
Mr. Schannault’s car was removed from the ditch (Yes, there is a ditch) behind Duke’s Garage by Westland Service Towing Inc. at 4:11 a.m. on 6/14 at the request of the Westland Police Department. According to the Police Report the vehicle had gone into the ditch after running across the Prayer Baptist Church lawn, over the curb and over the post of a “No Parking” sign. Both the windshield and the rear window were broken and the radio area of the dash was smashed.
The ditch in question, although behind Duke’s Garage, is not on his property but is on City property. The Police Department made the decision to tow the car; Westland Service Towing did not.
The charges for the job were as follows:
$30 to remove the car from the ditch
$30.00 to tow the car to the yard (per the Contract)
$ 4.00/day storage (per the Contract)

Mr. Schannault arrived at the Towing Yard at approximately 3:30 p.m. June 14. He wanted to see his car. He was advised that his son, Gerald, had been here a few minutes earlier and had gone to the Police Station for the yard pass. He would be right back and they could go in together to look at the car. He was advised that the bill owed was $64. There is a sign posted advising we don’t accept checks. This policy was instituted at the request of the Police Department and has eliminated numerous problems relative to NSF checks and Stop Payment checks.
Gerald Schannault arrived back with the yard pass and he and his father went into the yard and looked at the car. They told our man, who was in the yard with them, we had broken both windows and tried to steal the radio. Upon leaving the yard they got directly into their cars and left; they did not return to the office or say anything about picking up the car. Inasmuch as Mr. Schannault left the tow yard no later than 4 p.m. if he wanted to use his bankcard and pick up his car that day, he had two hours to do so. He lives less than one mile from the tow yard.

Mr. Schannault says we don’t offer 24-hour service to the citizens of Westland, but we do. Try and find another towing company to tow your car vehicle at 10 p.m. or 3 a.m. However, we do NOT release vehicles from the Tow Yard 24 hours a day. We release vehicles from the Tow Yard as posted from 8 a.m.-6 p.m. Monday thru Friday, 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Sunday. This is more hours than other Police Impound Yards release cars and no other local yards release at all on Sunday.
All three Police Officers on duty the evening of 6/14 at the Police Station have denied talking to Mr. Schannault or making the statements he has attributed to them.

The following day, 6/15, the son, Gerald, came and got the car. He apologized for the way his father acted the previous day. He also stated that his other brother had borrowed the car, gotten drunk and drove it in the ditch and left it there. He and his brother were trying to get it out and have it repaired before their father found out about it.
Also, it should be noted that Mr. Schannault stated to me that he works for Mr. Duke. If he knew about the car, which his son stated he did not, and if he was able to reach Mr. Duke in the middle of the night, why didn’t Mr. Duke take his wrecker out there at 4 a.m. and get his car for him free of charge and save him the cost incurred by the Police impound.
It is my belief this entire letter of complaint and distortions was written to continue to confuse the issue of the City Towing Contract currently before City Council. All of his charges are without foundation in fact.

sue mcdonald speaking

There are very few of us who have not heard the story of the Good Samaritan. A lonely traveller beset upon by robbers, who took what he had and left him along the road side to die. He was passed by many a traveller who looked the other way rather than stop to help. It was, so the Bible story goes, the Good Samaritan who stopped to help.

How many of us are Good Samaritans? It's far simpler to slow and gawk at an accident, than stop and see if you can be of assistance. It's far easier to express words of sympathy than lend a helping hand.

We hear a lot about the Good Samaritan, who catches the attention of the media for a spectacular rescue of a baby falling from a second floor balcony, but there are plenty of little incidents that go unnoticed. Such is the case of a Westland woman who last week came to the aid of a mother and her children, following a three-car accident.

The mother and children were in a car, broadsided at a stop light by a driver who chose not to stop for the amber light. Bruised and battered, the youngsters were frantic. At the insistence of this unknown Samaritan, she took the children into their her home and tended to their bumps and scrapes and tried to calm them down.

At the mother's request she fed them the lunches they had had in the car and watched them until the mother was free to go on her way again.

The only appropriate words the mother could find were "God bless you,". She repeated it often before they left. She even came back the next day to say thank you again for the woman's assistance.

Maybe this Good Samaritan's efforts that day weren't anything much, but she does deserve to be blessed for her care and concern for others.

This Good Samitan is my dearest friend. More times than I can count she has helped me, asking nothing in return. She gets embarrassed when I ask, "what would I do without you?"

When I returned from Florida, she made certain my home was in readiness. The electricity was turned on, my telephone ordered and the gas company ready to relight the furnace. She took time from her busy work schedule to do that. When I needed a place to do my laundry, she offered her washing machine and refused to accept any kind of reimbursement for the cost of the water and electricity.

When I needed a place to bake my bread, she stoked up her oven and sat and waited with me. Granted, I have helped her in her times of need, but somehow I feel my feeble efforts don't match up to her giving.

Life has not been easy for this Good Samaritan. Like most of us in Michigan, the recession has hit her and her family hard. She has scrimped and scraped to provide a good home for her children and her husband. She has had to join the ranks of the working mother and more times than not frets that it is having an adverse effect on her children.

She has gone through days when there was nothing more than pancakes in the house to feed her children for dinner, but somehow she still finds the time to rise above her adversity and be a Good Samaritan.

Yes, my friend, I promised I wouldn't print your name, but I will join that mother in saying "God bless you." You truly are a Good Samaritan.

Lake tragedy spawns questions

To the Editor:

In response to your editorial article, July 11, "Jet boats simply don't belong on Belleville Lake," with permission, may I ask, where in the hell have we all been — the citizens, the boat operators, the public officials elected, the State Department of Natural Resources, the State of Michigan, who governs vehicle licenses, recreation lovers who sport on the lake, Wayne County which polices the lake and in the name of freedom of the press you, the Belleville Enterprize?

A dozen years ago a group of citizens petitioned elected officials to exercise their expertise to put a halt to the speed boats on Belleville Lake. Heads nodded understanding our efforts in petitioning the 100 plus names. What happened was nothing. Oh, it was talked about, but some where here in American's geographical supervisor's plat of Belleville-Van Buren is a dumpster with a whisper of tiny flake ashes, now, those petitions blown to dust in the air.

Back then we people who petitioned were of selfish and arrogant mind — at least I was — for the noise factor was ear splitting on an early Sunday morning when one wanted to sleep in and, too, having grown up sailing the Atlantic Ocean I knew that sailboats always have the right of way. Here, my family being keen of water rights were astonished to observe how canoes, row boats and small sail crafts rights were abused, often having to scramble lowering the sail and thrusting an oar into the water to counter balance the thrust of wave slam caused by speed boats.

Editor, you correctly point out that the lake is not very large and from a sea plane vantage one can see how it twists and bends so much so that even a sail craft often must tact and is wise to position an auxiliary motor when the wind ceases to flap upon the sail.

Further, you correctly point out that no "test" is required of a boat operator of knowledge of the water rights and its safety procedures. "Sufficient cash" is all one needs to rent or to buy a boat to zoom on the lake. Having lived 19 years on Belleville Lake, enjoying the tranquility of peace it brings to one's mind, heart and soul, I am not alone when, truly, beyond the sailors, the fishers, the rowers and the shore observers the lake really harbors the fish, the birds and the ducks joined by the Canadian geese, who nest their homes in and around the lake shore. This beautiful sight is one to behold in memory.

The good ole American way is never to prevent the accident. Laws and ordinances are provided by the power of the people as petitioned by the registered voter at the polls. Those persons duly elected to Legislate those statutes and those ordinances and most vital of all to enact those orders into action by the employees they hire.

The June 30th accident with helicopters hovering above shot myself and others from our homes at the midnight hour to observe the officers and those residents, enlightened by the powerful beam of light from the copers, splashing about in the black water in feverent search of lost bodies — anybody! From the dark shore line we peered into the night less than 300 feet away hearing the sound of water splashing and voices — muffled gargles — seeing nothing and silently praying in this silent ependemic night that they would seek their find.

Alcohol was mentioned in your article. Alcohol is never an answer. Fortunately, some of us within our minds and hearts find the right question before it becomes the answer. That question and that answer lies within each and everyone of us to seek and to find. What is the answer? Is there any? The two young people upon the mountainous slam caused by impact, undoubtedly, in that whisper of moment knowing death was imminent screamed the answer in their silent epidemic entrance to death.

What is the question? We owe that to young Pat and David whose lives have been taken. Directing that question to those persons who represent us to exercise their political clout as representatives of all the people to act as our front runners and to join together in pursuit of an ordinance to ban this tragedy from ever happening again.

The Belleville Enterprise readers most certainly will applaud this freedom of the press newspaper for you, truly, represent all the people as our powerful clout so ordained to you and protected by the Constitution of the United States to encourage us all to join together in that prevention from another such tragic accident ever occurring again!

When we do, perhaps, then we just might, truly, eulogize Patricia Driskill and David Dallymple in that their deaths were not in vain.

"A SUPERVISOR WHO WILL

- Any transfer of sewer and water money to the General Fund will have to be at least approved at an Annual Meeting.
- I think that it is a disgrace that Western Wayne Co., the birth place of the automobile and the arsenal of democracy still is mud-bound every spring like it was 75 years ago.
- Transferring water and sewer fund amounts to taxation without a vote of the people.
- Many properties in Huron Township are over assessed for property taxes. At present there are so few valid property sales in Huron Township that it is impossible to arrive at fair market and values. I will correct this problem if elected.
- It also appears that our police department is attempting to take over our township board. This maneuver does not in my opinion serve the best interests of this township.
- We will also return to the days of more viable annual meetings.
- I do not have any relatives in this township or do I owe any particular group any favors. My campaign is being financed solely by family funds.

'Neverending Story'

The Teeny Weeny (Deep Roy) comforts his racing snail as they flee from The Nothing, a mysterious force destroying the magical land of Fantasia, a mythical empire of fabulous beings in "The Neverending Story."

The Neverending Story
A Warner Bros. film, Produced by Bernd Eichinger and Dieter Geissler. Director by Wolfgang Petersen. Based on the book "The Neverending Story" by Michael Ende. Music by Giorgio Moroder, lyrics by Keith Forsey. Starring Barret Oliver, Noah Hathaway, Tami Stronach, Tito Prueckner, Sydney Bromley, Moses Gunn and Patricia Hayes. Rated PG. Now showing at local theatres and drive-ins.

The book of the same name upon which this film is based is something of a sensation. A best-seller the world over, it finally took hold in the United States about a year ago. It quickly became one of the most talked about books in the genre of Fantasy to hit the shelves in years.

So how is the movie? Suffice it to say that "The Neverending Story" is this year's "Mary Poppins," the one film guaranteed to thrill every member of the family, no matter how young, no matter how old. No one will be bored while this one is on the screen.

The story revolves around 10-year-old Bastian, a youngster who is bullied by his schoolmates and is baffled by math. One morning, while on his way to school, said bullies throw poor Bastian into a garbage dumper when he doesn't have any money for them to take. When they try for a repeat performance, Bastian eludes them by making a hasty entrance into an old book store. Here he comes upon a grouchy old coot reading a book.

"This isn't like your books," he tells Bastian. "Your books are safe. Tell me," he asks the youngster, "when you read your stories do you ever imagine that it's you who is fighting the pirates or locked in a diving bell at the bottom of the sea?"

"Sure," he replies. "The difference is, when you get scared, you can just close the book, right?"

Bastian answers, "Yes, they're just stories, after all."

"That's what I said. Your books are safe!"
When the old man turns his back, Bastian runs off with the See NEVERENDING, Page B-3

A Fantasy for all

getting together

book, leaving a note that he will return the book soon.

He takes shelter in the attic of his school, he would much rather read a new adventure than fight with history lessons. After all, who wouldn't?

From that point, the story revolves around the fact that as the person reads the book, he (or she) lives the story. It should be understood at the outset, that is the purpose of most fantasy stories, except maybe those penned by Steven King. Like the "Wizard of Oz," the land Bastian (and we as well) enters is one of strange creatures, most of them friendly.

There is the giant Rockbiter and his friends who ride on animals (?) like the Racing Snail and the Stupid Bat, the latter a creature that acts as a hang-glider for the Night Hob. You'll also meet Morla, a gigantic turtle, the gnomes Urgl and Engywook, and, best of all, Falkor, the flying Luck- Dragon.

These are the inhabitants of Fantasia.

Bastian learns that the world of Fantasia is threatened with disaster, because a giant Nothing is taking over, wreaking havoc on all it passes over. Only one person can save the world, and, naturally, that is the person Bastian becomes — Atreyu, hunter of the purple buffalo.

I'll not reveal the rest of the story here, because it's far too much fun to discover for yourself. I expect to see stuffed Falkors lining the toy shelves by Christmas, and why not? The giant beast resembles nothing so much as a white cocker spaniel that flies, talks, and probably plays a mean game of trivial pursuit too!

The Empress (Tami Stronach) gives Bastian (Barret Oliver) a grain of sand from which to rebuild the magical land of Fantasia, a mythical empire that comes to life in Warner Bros. release of "The Neverending Story."

The visuals, which are truly stunning, threaten to take over the story at times, which is a common experience at films like this. It never quite happens though. At the special screening I attended, critics were asked to bring children with them (probably a first!), and while I noticed mouths open wide in amazement as creatures which looked to be hundreds of feet tall flew with the greatest of ease, there were a few tears present when young Atreyu loses his faithful horse in the swamp. The story outplays the effects, and in this movie, that's really saying something. This is a film where, at the end, adults will join in with the kids as they cheer what they have seen on the screen.

As young Bastian becomes a part of the book, so too will you become involved in the film. But fear not; it's an adventure well worth taking.

Piscopink survives shaky 2nd round

Wayne golfer's 'even par' wins his 5th 'city championship'

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

When Wayne golfer Tom Piscopink finished the first round of the 1984 City Golf Championships with a torrid 69, no one appeared surprised, after all, the tournament in recent years appeared to be his very own.

On Sunday, however, fans started to shake their heads in disbelief as the old amateur pro launched the championship round with a host of problems. After tearing up the Dun Rovin turf with the 3-under-par 69 on Saturday, Piscopink made his assault on his fifth championship with a double bogey on the first hole.

"I had my problems and my hands filled," Piscopink later said in the clubhouse. "I can't explain it, but whenever you four-putt the first hole - watch out."

Piscopink survived the horrendous second round, took a 75 for the round and finished with an even par 144 to capture medalist honors. He edged city rival, Steve Zaidel, by two strokes for the over-all championship. And with that victory also came the city of Wayne title and the Anderson Memorial Trophy.

"There was pressure on me after that first hole the second day," Piscopink admitted. "It was close all the way."

Zaidel, who was playing with Piscopink, turned in a 71 on Sunday after collecting a 75 in the first round to remain in the title chase right up to the final hole where he took a triple bogey.

Zaidel, an aero space engineering student at the University of Michigan, was playing "even par golf" until he met his nemesis in the form of the 18th hole.

"That triple bogey killed me," said the 21-year-old Zaidel. "I had a lot of opportunities on the back nine and just couldn't capitalize on them. I had three birdie putts within five feet and I should have made them. I had them lip-out."

Zaidel has competed in the last six City Championships and this was "the closest he has ever come from winning the big one."

"Because I'm a senior and don't know where I will be a year from now, I don't know if I will be back next year. Sunday's round was one of the best I've ever played."

tle the runner-up position, they went into a "sudden death" overtime. Murray returned to the clubhouse the victor.

Dicesore had a lot of praise for his protege.

"He was my No. 1 golfer," Dicesore said, "and he can hit the ball a mile. I hope he gets the recognition he deserves because when he tries out for Central's (Central Michigan University) team, he can show the coach a few things."

It took four extra holes to decide who would wear the Romulus city crown.

John Sample and Chuck Allison returned to the clubhouse with 156 totals after the two-day affair and returned to the battle ground to settle the issue.

The duel for first place remained a cliffhanger to the end. The action is picked up by Sample.

"Both Chuck and I parred No. 10," said Sample, and we also both bogeyed 11. We went to the 12 and missed the green and chipped up about 3 feet away. I made it. And, Chuck lipped it."

In the picture to the finish was Tom Singer who began the second round tied with Sample at 78 but got into trouble and took a 79 and finished with the third place trophy.

Canton's Paul DeGrazia managed to hold off Nunzio Marino and Jason Roberts to win the Canton title.

DeGrazia came up with a 2-over-par 74 the first day and sealed the victory the following afternoon with a 75 for a 36-hole total of 149, five strokes better than his closest competition. Marino, who was the runner-up, had 154.

Inkster's durable Lacy Hill posted an 8-stroke victory over Dicesore, winning the championship with rounds of 81 and 80 (161). Dicesore checked in with a 169; while in third place was Jimmy White with 171.

In the Open Division, the title went to Richard Hunter who captured the first place trophy with a 162.

Also, for the first time in the 25 year history of the tournament, prizes were awarded for "The Closest to the Pin." A set of clubs went to Romulus' Terry Johnson who drilled one eight inches from the cup, using a 4-iron, on the 175-yard 18th hole.

They claimed golf championships

Tom Piscopink is making the City Golf Championships his own private tournament. The Wayne golfer picked up a handful of trophies Sunday at the 25th annual City Golf Championships staged at Dun Rovin over the weekend. Piscopink (second from left) is being congratulated by tournament co-director Bill Whitworth after winning the City of Wayne title, the Anderson Memorial Trophy and also tourney medalist honors. Finishing second in Wayne was Steve Zaidel, with a 146, two strokes off the pace, while George Paul (second from right) was third.

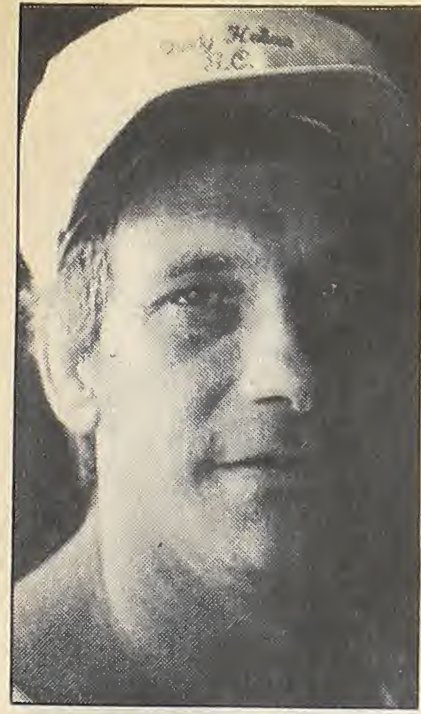

In his first appearance at the City Golf Championships, 18-year-old Steve Radomski (center) came away with the City of Westland championship thanks to a two-day total of 153. The former Cherry Hill star is heading for Central Michigan University where he hopes to continue his golfing career. A "sudden death" playoff settled the runner up trophy after Murray Brooks (at right) and Fred Backiel turned in identical 154s. Brooks won the playoff and the second place trophy.

It took four extra holes, but John Sample (center) emerged as Romulus' city champion, thwarting the excellent efforts of Chuck Allison (at left) who finished in a "dead heat" with his rival. Sample and Allison each carded 156s during the two-day competitions at Dun Rovin, necessitating the overtime. Tom Singer, who had a 36-hole total of 157, one-stroke difference, finished third.

Canton's Paul DeGrazia has plenty of reason to smile as he carded a 2-over-par 74 and a 75 in the finals for a 149 total to claim the Canton Township crown. DeGrazia (second from left) is congratulated by parks and recreation representative Mike Cummings (at left). Runnerup in the championship while Jason Roberts finished third with 156 (80-76).

T.J. JOHNSON

Johnson's a winner

Although he may not have realized it at the time, T.J. Johnson did have "a first" at the 25th annual City Golf Championships staged Saturday and Sunday at Dun Rovin Golf Course in Northville Township. Johnson came within eight inches of the 175-yard 18th hole, using a "soft 4-iron" to win the closest to the cup prize offered by The Associated Newspapers. "I couldn't believe it," said Johnson who finished sixth in the Romulus Championship flight. "It was a beautiful shot."

For that exceptional drive, Johnson received a set of clubs.

Anderson tourney is set

With the defending champ out of the field, the 1984 Lenny Anderson Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament will be a "wide open race."

The tournament is scheduled to begin at 6:15 p.m. on July 27 and continue until July 29 at the Anderson Memorial Softball Field. Some 13 teams have entered the tournament with the Dearborn-based Leaseway favored to capture the title.

However, J & D Auto/Little Bill's of Wayne is expected to be in the running.

Other teams entered include: New World-Pittman's of Wayne; Carriage House of Redford; Little Bill's of Redford; Rocco's of Westland; Star Optical of Wayne; Who Cares of Westland; Walter's Bar of Romulus; Law Auto of Redford; G. W. Transfer of Ohio; Studio Lounge of Westland and Trail Bar II of Dearborn.

[Last offered in July of 1981 — and since they won't be given again for at least 2-3 years, don't miss out!]

NOW is the time to prepare. The pressure is on to score as high as possible to get the job. Career Postal Clerks and Carriers make $25,000 a year to start, including benefits; men and women, regardless of age, are eligible. The first step toward a postal service career is getting your name onto the "Register of Eligibles," which is accomplished by passing this Exam. To be one of the first hired, you need to get one of the higher scores! And to be hired at all during the next three years, you will need to score at least 95%!

4-HOUR WORKSHOP
Score 95-100% or Your Tuition is Refunded!

It is possible to get a very high score with adequate preparation. From years of experience and discussions with our Advisory Board (consisting of former postmasters, training managers and examiners), we know that it takes exactly four hours to teach you everything you need to know to score 95% or better — which is what you'll need to get a job.

Benefits derived from this course extend far beyond the postal exam. The skills and attitudes will help in every area of future learning and test-taking. We have helped thousands of people successfully prepare for the Clerk-Carrier Exam. But don't take our word for it, take our guarantee! Come to the workshop. If you don't feel, at the end of the course, that it will help you achieve a score of 95% or better, don't pay for the workshop! Furthermore, if your score is less than 95% on the official exam after using our techniques, we will immediately refund your tuition in full!

* You are invited to bring your tape recorder to record the workshop for personal exam review.
* You may attend as many extra sessions of the workshop as you like (on a space available basis) without additional tuition charge.

WORKSHOP TUITION — $35 (includes guaranteed 4-hour Workshop, The Core Guide to Postal Exams, Sample Exam with Answers, Workshop Workbook, and Take-Home Practice Kit containing: Practice Exams with Answers, Flash Cards, and "Simulated Exam" on cassette tape.) John P. Farley, manager of the office, presented the TV to Mr. and Mrs. Fleszar, whose transaction number was drawn at random from among those who used the new Express Banking automatic teller machines in the office's lobby during a two-week promotional period in May.

FIRM gets contracts

Defense contracts are contributing to the economy of Romulus.

The Detroit Diesel Allison GMC of 36501 Van Born Road, has received a contract to provide $95,739 worth of piston ring sets for the U.S. military services. The large firm was awarded the contract by the Defense Construction Supply Center (DCSC) of Columbus, Ohio.

Nearly four out of five DCSC contracts—and more than half of the center's purchase dollars—go to small, minority and woman-owned businesses. DCSC is a field installation of the Defense Logistics Agency, Washington, D.C.

the letter writer . . . by genny eades

Your responses to my column at 41719 Joy Road, Canton, MI 48187 and 455-8892 are appreciated.

PROPERTY VALUES ARE AFFECTED BY INCONSIDERATE NEIGHBOR!!

My husband and I are having a real problem with our neighbor right behind us. Their backyard is in horrible condition. Would you please help us write a letter to our homeowner's association that will get their attention and motivate them to help us correct the situation.

Sincerely, DDD
Dear Homeowner's President:

Please accept this letter in the spirit in which it is intended, i.e. a sincere attempt on our part to quickly and amicably resolve a distressing situation.

On April 25, 1983, we wrote to you regarding this matter and received a prompt and courteous response. Our hope is that you, you will assist us again. The lot directly behind our home is an eye sore, possesses inherently dangerous conditions and is in violation of natural and expected aesthetics. The yard is strewn with approximately 17 pieces of "red" indoor carpeting, each piece being approximately 20 feet by 3 feet in measurement. In essence, the entire contents of the backyard is carpeting, logs, rocks, weeds and garden, a maximum of 10 percent of the property is green grass.

We have exhaustively read the by-laws of the Association and would respectfully call your attention to Section 2, which reads, in part, "... assessments levied by the Association shall be used exclusively to promote the recreation, health, safety and welfare of the residents ...

Section 3 reads, in part, "No rubbish or debris of any kind shall be placed or permitted to accumulate upon any property ... property or any portion thereof of unsanitary, unsightly, offensive or detrimental to any other property in the vicinity thereof or to its occupants". Section 3, reads, in part, "The premises shall be kept free of unsightly weeds and trash at all times ..."

We are operating under the assumption that you are not aware of the conditions which presently exist and request that you view the same at your earliest convenience.

We look forward to your prompt response with regard to your intentions and the steps that will be taken immediately by the Association to remedy this dilemma.

In the event that we do not hear from you within a seven day period, we shall seek legal counsel to appraise us of our remedies under the law, if any.

Thank you for your time, attention and prompt response.
Sincerely, DDD

RESOLUTION: This letter was mailed on June 30, 1984. DDD received a call from the President of the Association immediately and steps are presently being taken to remedy the situation.

Foundation seeks volunteers

Loe Kalota, regional chairman for the United Foundation's 1984 fund drive, is seeking volunteers to serve as community chairpersons in the area.

"The United Foundation serves a wide range of people in need," Kalota noted, "and it is a cause that most of us are well aware of."

Kalota said that he is seeking persons to serve as chairpersons for the communities of Romulus, Belleville-Van Buren, Sumpter Township and Huron. He can be reached by telephoning 941-0600. Also, contact Eleanor Millor at the same number for further information.

special, one-time early out retirement program for state employees.

ing services worker at DSS's Plymouth Road offices in Redford before retiring June 30 after 13 years of service.

Hearing Test Set For Senior Citizens

Free electronic tests will be given at Beltone Hearing Aid Center from July 26 through July 28 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Factory-trained hearing aid specialists will be at the Beltone Hearing Aid Center listed below from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to perform the tests.

THIS MAY BE ALL YOU NEED

Anyone who has trouble hearing is welcome to have a test using modern electronic equipment to determine if his loss is one which may be helped. Diagrams showing how the ear works and some of the causes of hearing loss will be available. Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and find out about the current methods of hearing correction.

The free hearing test will be given at the Beltone Hearing Aid Center listed below. Call now for an appointment.
